RESIDENTIAL DESIGN

Recognizes: Built, site-specific works of landscape architectural design for residential use.

Criteria: The jury will consider quality of design and execution; design context; environmental sensitivity and sustainability; and design value to the client and to other designers.

Typical Entries Include: Single or multi-family residential projects; activity areas for cooking, entertaining, recreation or relaxation; sustainable landscape applications; new construction or renovation projects; historic preservation, rehabilitation, or restoration; affordable landscape concepts and innovations; rooftop gardens; and more.

South Whidbey Residence
Berger Partnership

COMMUNITY STEWARDSHIP

Recognizes: An individual landscape architect, group of landscape architects, landscape architecture firm, or landscape architecture education program who has provided sustained service to the community demonstrating sound principles or values of landscape architecture, or who have developed a working partnership with a community organization to enhance the community and advance the presence of landscape architecture, or who have made significant contributions to the profession and/or to the Washington Chapter of ASLA.

Criteria: The jury will consider the nominee's sustained value to the community they/it serves and the quality and sustainability of the partnership between the landscape architect/firm/program with the community organization(s); the nominee must be in good standing with WASLA.

Typical Entries Include: Local leaders that have established strong partnerships with local or regional community organizations; landscape architects that have served in a leadership capacity in the local chapter, furthering the mission of ASLA and the profession; or local firms that have partnered with an organization that has impacted the local community in a meaningful way.

OUTSTANDING EMERGING PROFESSIONAL

Recognizes: An individual showing promise of making contributions to the profession of landscape architecture through exceptional leadership, design, communication, service, and/or vision. ASLA Washington Chapter involvement, participation, and Board of Directors position(s) will be considered.

Criteria: Nominee must be an emerging professional in their first five years of practice that exceeds expectations and shows promise in making contributions to landscape architecture.

Typical Entries Include: Demonstrated leadership, design excellence, fluency with clients, community engagement, and service to the profession.

ELIGIBILITY + JURY

ELIGIBILITY

Project must be completed by an ASLA Fellow, ASLA Full Member, or ASLA Associate Member; or eligible to join ASLA in one of those categories. An official nominee in the Community Stewardship and/or Outstanding Emerging Professional category is not required to join ASLA to enter.

While location of the project can be nationwide, the design work must be substantially completed by licensed individuals or firms with a work address within the state of Washington.

The project must not have previously won a WASLA award. The project must meet all requirements set forth in this Call for Entries.

SUBMISSION DEADLINE

All submittals will be done online. Submit to:
www.wasla.org/2019-wasla-awards-call-for-entries

Complete submissions are due by 5pm Friday September 6th, 2019. Late entries will not be accepted. Winners will not be notified in advance of the Reception.

Awards Ceremony 2018

THE JURY

The Jury will be comprised of an out-of-state group that represent the breadth of the profession, including private, public, institutional, and academic practice, and exemplify diversity in professional experience, geography, gender, and ethnicity. The jury awards will be by majority vote and not by full consensus. The jury process is blind, the identities of the entrant and creative team are not revealed to the jury.

Members of the professional awards jury, as well as the firms, organizations, agencies, or employers they represent, are not eligible to enter the professional awards program. WASLA retains the right to disqualify any entry that does not meet the program requirements or that presents a conflict of interest.
